1	I hated missing an entire session in order to grab a lunch break. It would be nice to have a built in 20+ minute break that would allow people to grab some food and take a bit of a mental break from all the great information coming our way.

Loved being able to remotely join a session like this. Thanks for putting this on :)

Perhaps distribute a survey to eTug members to determine interest regarding potential topics? It might help potential presenters to have an understanding of interests.
